I am a young person who is trying to grow closer to the lord and it meant a lot to me that Mrs. Angela M. Jones-Braggs reached out to me to attend her very first class, The Mastery Class of Motivational Mindset in December of 2017. During that class, Mrs. Braggs inspired us to be true to our own thoughts and asked us to take a self-evaluation. Being true to myself and not playing the blame game was the honesty I needed to prepare myself for what the year of 2018 had to offer.

One thing that I learned is that “Closed Mouths Don’t Get Fed. “In order to achieve my true destiny, I cannot be afraid to ask for help. Building any kind of brand takes a team. It is up to you to ask God to show you who needs to be on that team so that your brand can expand. At the second class, The Power of Visualization to Manifestation, a good friend of Mrs. Braggs spoke and asked the group a question. If we are having a party, what are the guest going to eat? Long story short, the guest eats what you have placed on the table. You must be willing to let God guide you to the people of your party, (your team) and when they get there, do not let anyone at your party change your menu. This is only a fraction of what I have learned through the Motivational Mindset Movement.
